

GOT NANO? PITTSBURGH DOES!

If you are an international company attending the Commercialization of NanoMaterials 2007 Conference, we invite you to stay and take exclusive advantage of:

- ❖ A keynote invitation only lunch with a leader from one of Pittsburgh's global companies;
- ❖ Exclusive tours of a number of the world's leading corporate and university technology labs and research centers;
- ❖ Discuss business development opportunities with leaders in Pittsburgh's global material science companies.

This value added program will be at no-cost to you, and is exclusive to international companies attending the Commercialization of NanoMaterials conference.

- ❖ The International program begins on November 13 at 12:30 with a keynote lunch followed by business development meetings
- ❖ November 14 – a morning tour with key leading corporate and university technology labs and research centers

For further information on these events, please contact Sherry Colonna at the Pittsburgh Regional Alliance by phone at 412-392-4555, Ext. 1026 or e-mail to scolonna@pittsburghregion.org or visit our website at www.pittsburghregion.org.

Commercialization of NanoMaterials 2007 Conference

November 11-13, Pittsburgh, PA

For more information on this conference visit:

<http://www.tms.org/Meetings/specialty/nano07>

Commercialization of NanoMaterials 2007 will provide the unique opportunity for dialogue among industry, small business, academia and government to understand each others' needs and the opportunity for NanoMaterials solutions.