YOUNG PROFESSIONAL WORKSHOP: PREPARING A WINNING APPLICATION PACKAGE TO FIND YOUR FUTURE JOB WORKSHOP

SUNDAY, MARCH 11, 2018 • 8:30 A.M. TO NOON

In this workshop, instructors from a national laboratory, university, and industry will share their experiences in obtaining and/or recruiting entry-level positions (postdocs, tenure-track faculty positions, etc.) and help guide the young professional on their journey from recent graduate to career professional.

Topics include:

- How to find the position that fits your interests and expertise
- The effect of networking and how to create your network
- What needs to be included in your cover letter, research and teaching statements, and diversity statement for a faculty position
- The key differences between the academic, industry, and national lab application packages?
- Hands-on experience on modifying application packages

It is recommended that you prepare your application package for an example job for the hands-on session.
