TMS does not discriminate with respect to nationality, citizenship, race, sex, occupation, or age in selecting award recipients. The TMS Fellow Award is presented at the TMS Annual Meeting during the TMS-AIME Awards Ceremony.

This award recognizes members of TMS who are qualified for elevation to the Class of Fellow by reason of outstanding contributions to the practice of metallurgy, materials science, and technology. The award includes a life membership to TMS. This award is considered a pinnacle award.

Nominees shall be persons who have been full members of TMS for at least five years continuously. Posthumous nominations for Fellow will not be accepted for consideration. A nomination is good for three years provided it meets criteria for the award each year.

A candidate must have a good personal reputation and have attained distinction as an eminent authority in some aspect of the practice of minerals, metals, or materials science and technology. The award consisting of a certificate and a Fellows pin shall normally be presented at the TMS Annual Meeting Awards Ceremony. A candidate must be present to receive the Fellow Award personally at this ceremony. Life membership to TMS shall be awarded in September.

A Fellow Award nomination package should include a short CV, no more than 5 pages, that addresses the major selection criteria listed in categories 1 to 4 of the bylaws Appendix and an extended CV (for support information), in addition to the letters of recommendation and nominator's supporting letter. Only a member of TMS may nominate a candidate for Fellow.

Go to www.tms.org/society/apm/FellowAwardCommittee.pdf for the complete Appendix on what to submit for each employment class.
